Craig Stutzmann was born in Hilo, Hawaii, attended St. Patrick's School in Kaimuki and graduated from St. Louis School in 1998. He then attended UH Manoa and graduated with a B.A. in Political Science in 2002. Stutzmann was team captain and an all conference player for the UH Warriors football team.

He is currently a teacher at St. Louis School teaching 7th grade Geography. Prior to teaching at St. Louis, Stutzmann taught at Kalaheo High School. As a public school teacher he saw first hand the limited resources in our educational system. He saw good teachers and good principals unable to perform their duties because of an educational bureaucracy. Stutzmann decided the only way to change the system was to change the people in the system. As a member of the State House, Stutzmann would like to see more of the 1.9 billion dollars spent on education go into the classrooms.

Stutzmann is a varsity football coach for the St. Louis Crusaders and works with the youth of Hawaii giving speeches and counseling our future leaders.
